DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF A CHAPERONE AT UK ITF EVENTS WHEN CHILDREN ARE UNACCOMPANIED BY PARENT(S)

The following advice and guidance has been drawn from the following sources:

- BTC Safeguarding – Protecting Children and Vulnerable Adults Policy & Implementation Procedures
- BTC Code of Conduct and Ethics
- Child Protection in Sport Unit (CPSU) Safeguarding Support Toolkit
- Hampshire & Hereford County Councils – Responsibilities of a Chaperone

A chaperone's first duty is to look after the children in their care and must not undertake any activity that would interfere with the performance of these duties. Except when a child is in the care of an instructor, a chaperone is in loco parentis and is required to exercise the care which a good parent might reasonably be expected to give a child.

Chaperones have the responsibility of care for children under their supervision and the nature of a chaperone's role is that s/he is in a position of trust regarding those children. Abuse of a position of trust in respect of young persons under the age of 18 is considered an offence under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 and would include sexual activity with or in the presence of a child, causing or inciting a child to engage in sexual activity or watch a sexual act.

Chaperones should possess firm negotiating skills. Chaperones have the power to withdraw a child from an activity if they have good reason and should have the confidence to do so when it is in the interest of the child. A child should not be allowed to perform when unwell. The chaperone must put the needs of the child first. They have the responsibility to refuse to accept a sick child who arrives for an event.

Qualified first-aiders should be on hand in all events. Chaperones should establish where the first-aid station is located.

The chaperone should become familiar with the procedures for evacuating the building in case of fire and the escape routes from whatever rooms the children are using.

In line with BTC Safeguarding Policy Implementation Procedures, a chaperone should, prior to the event, complete a Self Disclosure Form and have a working knowledge and understanding of the Safeguarding Policy and Procedures.

At a UK ITF event (international, national, regional or club), duties of a chaperone include:

- As agreed with the Club Instructor and Parent/Carer, to receive children into their care, with clear confirmation of the following responsibilities:
  - Supervise a safe environment for children in their care;
  - Supervise safe behaviour and attentiveness of children in their care;
  - Use appropriate tone, vocabulary and patience in their communications with children in their care, to reassure and translate instructions from Referee/Instructor/Examiner as needed;
  - Ensure children in their care attend the designated waiting areas for their relevant grading or competition divisions for Patterns, Sparring and/or Special Technique, and remain there until dismissed by the Referee/Instructor/Examiner;
  - Ensure children in their care are correctly presented in dobok, belt and all required protective equipment, assisting children where necessary with due regard to good practice in relation to appropriate physical contact;
  - Ensure children in their care have a drink and any inhalers or other required medications available, and know when/how these should be administered;
  - Ensure children in their care, and others in the vicinity, maintain a positive attitude in regard to the tenets of Taekwon-Do;
  - At the conclusion of the event/activity, return the child(ren) to the care of the Club Instructor/Parent/Carer.

This list is for general guidance and may not be exhaustive. At all times, common sense and empathy should be employed.
